Situation

A longtime patron and long-haul truck driver shared that his job left little opportunity to read. Long hours on the road made learning and personal enrichment difficult.

Staff Action

Library staff connected him with audiobooks, providing a format that fit his lifestyle and removed barriers to accessing books and information.

Human-centered storytelling

Outcome

Through audiobooks, he rediscovered a love of learning, completed every online course offered by Hillsdale College, and improved his health by staying motivated during long drives.

Board-Level Meaning

This story shows how accessible library resources can transform lives, supporting lifelong learning, personal achievement, and overall well-being far beyond our buildings.
