Play your way to another prize!

Complete 7 of the 11 activity challenges to win and learn more about your library along the way. Prizes available while supplies last; must visit a library to claim.

Play Along:

Attend any program at your local library or join one of our virtual programs from home.

Play Around:

Explore the Library website and find a new-to-you resource like Brainfuse or Digital Indy.

Play it by Ear:

Check out an audiobook with your library card.

Play to Win:

Challenge someone else to a reading competition. Compete to see who can read the most books, read for the most minutes, or create your own rules!

Play a Part:

Donate a new or used book at your local library. Books will be donated to Listen to Our Future.

Play it Safe:

Learn about available health and safety options at the library, like lead testing kits, gun locks, and Narcan.

Two Can Play:

Read to or with someone else.

Play Favorites:

Meet a staff member at your favorite branch and say hello.

Play the Long Game:

Use Library resources to start learning something new! Try LinkedIn Learning, ASLdeafined, Mango Languages, Craftsy, or many more!

Play Well with Others:

Recommend something you borrowed from the library to someone else. Then, tell them about Summer Reading and encourage them to sign up!

Play in the Dirt:

Learn how the Seed Library works at your local library.

Play with the Survey:

Fill out the Adult Summer Reading feedback survey at indypl.org/srp/adults and be entered to win a $100 Kroger gift card!

Summer Reading is made possible by many generous donors. For a full list, please see indypl.org/srp
